What could be more epic than standing on deck listening to the water break on the ship's bow, as you sail across great oceans? Or escaping winter to spend three months circumnavigating the globe to discover far-flung and exotic locations? You'll feel like an intrepid explorer, but one who sleeps under crisp, Egyptian cotton sheets, travels with great entertainers and dines on the most incredible cuisine. World travel with award-winning P&O Cruises is world travel in comfort, as well as style.

DESTINATION AUSTRALASIA

When it comes to travelling the world, epic doesn't have to mean visiting all four corners of the globe. A P&O Cruises leisurely cruise to or from Australia or New Zealand is just as magnificent.

Journeying halfway across the world to the beautiful and remote Australasian continent, visiting far-flung destinations along the way, is most definitely an experience worthy of epic status.

Introduced by P&O Cruises back in the 1930s, but popularised by the birth of the 'ten pound pom' in the 1950s (when the Australian Government offered an assisted passenger scheme to encourage workers to emigrate), these thrilling 'line voyages' are still popular 80 years on.

You can choose to sail to Australia or New Zealand from Southampton. Alternatively, you can fly to the other side of the world and join your ship for the journey home. Either way, this is your chance to really experience life 'down under', with the option to tour and explore these magnificent countries before or after you cruise. En route you can enjoy a magnificent adventure, witnessing iconic sights, enjoying unique experiences at sea and absorbing yourself in the excitement and relaxation on board.

Whether you wish to visit family or friends on the other side of the world, or are simply fulfilling a long-held dream, Australia and New Zealand have so much to offer.
